

Cooperation with Stakeholders

Working Together with Local Communities

Showa Shell's Programs

- Second Annual Energy Classroom Over Summer Vacation

During August, Showa Shell held its second Energy Classroom Over Summer Vacation. The program is open to children from elementary schools near the head office, children of employees of Showa Shell, and children of employees of associated companies. Even though the weather was hot, a total of 100 children, as well as the children's parents, participated. Eyes sparkling with excitement, the children assembled solar kits and tackled other assignments as well.

- Coastal Protection Activities at the Hiroshima Tank Yard

To preserve the coastal environment surrounding the Hiroshima depots, Showa Shell participates in "Refresh Seto Inland Sea," an effort to clean up the coastline that has been going on for many years. The program is well established in the local communities, and the company participated again in 2005, making a contribution to the protection of the coastal environment.

- Yokohama Lubricant Blending Plant: "Start with What Can Be Done"

Guided by the slogan "Start with what can be done," the Yokohama Lubricant Blending Plant is engaged in environmental protection activities such as waste recycling, beautification of its surroundings, and energy conservation. As one of the activities undertaken for Eco-Summer 2005, in July, the employees of the plant cleaned up the approximately one kilometer of road between Anzen Station on the JR Tsurumi train line and the plant.

- Kobe Blending Plant: Fire Hose Competition

On March 7, the Kobe Lubricant Blending Plant held the Council of Petroleum Complex Firefighting Headquarters' Fire Hose Competition. Ten teams participated. Three employees represented the Kobe Lubricant Blending Plant, and their constant training paid off in raising disaster readiness consciousness at the plant.

Group Refinery Programs

The three refineries operated by the Showa Shell Group's refining division are working to become more closely interconnected with their local communities through such activities as disaster response training and sporting events.

Showa Yokkaichi Sekiyu Co., Ltd.

● Shiohama Grand Golf Tournament

The Grand Golf Tournament for the citizens of the Shiohama region, sponsored by the Shiohama Council of Social Welfare, was held at Showa Shell's Shiohama Club Grand. Although it was a rainy day, 190 golfers turned out to make the tournament a great success. drivers and service station managers and staff, with regard to unloading operations.

including the mayor of Yokkaichi City, members of local community associations, community centers, and neighboring firms; 170 of these participants were Showa Yokkaichi Sekiyu employees and their families, including the company's president, as well as affiliated company employees and their families.

● Second Annual Suzukagawa Clean Challenge

Following the success of last year's event, the second annual Suzukagawa Clean Challenge was held on March 11. There were 1,100 participants,

● New Mix Wheelchair Tennis Tournament

The 18th New Mix Wheelchair Tennis Tournament, which pairs one wheelchair competitor with an ambulatory player, was held in 2005. There were 30 wheelchair players from the Shoushi Tennis Club and the Shoushi Tennis Amateurs. A high standard of play was maintained, and many enjoyable matches were seen.

Seibu Oil Co., Ltd.

The Yamaguchi Refinery's Seibu Fureai Program Special Committee was awarded the Sawayaka Welfare Foundation's One More Life Worker Volunteer Award (the Nice Support Award for companies and businesses). This is the 12th consecutive year that Seibu Oil's community service programs have been recognized.

Activities by Seibu Oil in 2005 included:

- Holding sports tournaments
- Participating in the Onoda Festival Lion Dance
- Sponsoring foreign exchange students as host families
- Holding beach cleanups
- Holding plant tours for local children's groups and schools
- Conducting energy conservation summer classes and coordination between high school and university work-study programs

Toa Oil Co., Ltd.

● Volunteer Activities

Toa Oil held cleanups of the areas around its Ohgimachi and Mizue facilities, and held an employee blood drive.

● Receiving Interns and Visitors

Toa Oil has hosted 154 visitors, including firefighting trainees from China, social studies teachers from Tokyo elementary schools, chemical substance handling trainees from Southeast Asia, and trainees from the Japan Cooperation Center, Petroleum.

● Interaction with Neighborhood Associations

Until recently, Toa Oil held meetings with neighborhood associations separately. However, in February 2006, it convened a Corporate Activities Debriefing for five neighborhood associations together. At this debriefing, Toa Oil explained its business activities to the assembled neighborhood association presidents, in accordance with its CSR and Environmental Report.